‘Ustazah, aku harap Ustazah berkenan menjadi saksi untuk ibuku.’ Aku mendengarnya dengan lebih serius. ‘Saksi untuk apa, wahai anak?’ ‘Selama ibuku hidup, beliau tidak memiliki apapun kecuali 2 helai baju. Satu dipakai sementara yang satu lagi dicuci. Beliau juga hanya memiliki 2 helai tudung, telekung sembahyang, sepasang sandal, sebuah sikat, cermin, piring, al-Quran, tasbih dan sejadah. Beliau tidak memegang satu sen pun wang, tidak memiliki perhiasan, rumah, barang atau perabot apa pun. Semasa tua, beliau tinggal dengan abang sulungku. Apabila ada yang memberinya wang, maka pada hari itu juga wang tersebut disedekahkan. Dan ketika beberapa hari yang lalu seseorang memberinya hadiah selebar kain, beliau berkata: [Jika umurku sampai Ramadhan nanti, jahitkan kain ini untuk pakaian solatku sebagai mengganti telekung yang lama. Namun jika tidak, tolong berikan kepada orang yang lebih memerlukannya sebelum kalian meletakkan jenazahku ke dalam kain kafan.]’” Anak remaja di hadapanku menunduk. Dia menyembunyikan air matanya yang perlahan-lahan menitis sebelum akhirnya kemudian berkata: “Ustazah...” panggilnya lirih. “Ibuku meninggal dunia tiga hari yang lalu. Aku harap Ustazah sudi menjadi saksi bahawa beliau telah berhasil menjalani kehidupan seperti yang diinginkannya...

This textbook, set for a one or two semester course in commutative algebra, provides an introduction to commutative algebra at the postgraduate and research levels. The main prerequisites are familiarity with groups, rings and fields. Proofs are self-contained. The book will be useful to beginners and experienced researchers alike. The material is so arranged that the beginner can learn through self-study or by attending a course. For the experienced researcher, the book may serve to present new perspectives on some well-known results, or as a reference.

In Europe and North America Muslims are often represented in conflict with modernity—but what could be more modern than motivational programs that represent Islamic practice as conducive to business success and personal growth? Daromir Rudnyckyj's innovative and surprising book challenges widespread assumptions about contemporary Islam by showing how moderate Muslims in Southeast Asia are reinterpreting Islam not to reject modernity but to create a "spiritual economy" consisting of practices conducive to globalization. Drawing on more than two years of research in Indonesia, most of which took place at state-owned Krakatau Steel, Rudnyckyj shows how self-styled "spiritual reformers" seek to enhance the Islamic piety of workers across Southeast Asia and beyond. Deploying vivid description and a keen ethnographic sensibility, Rudnyckyj depicts a program called Emotional and Spiritual Quotient (ESQ) training that reconfigures Islamic practice and history to make the religion compatible with principles for corporate success found in Euro-American management texts, self-help manuals, and life-coaching sessions. The prophet Muhammad is represented as a model for a corporate CEO and the five pillars of Islam as directives for self-discipline, personal responsibility, and achieving "win-win" solutions. Spiritual Economies reveals how capitalism and religion are converging in Indonesia and other parts of the developing and developed world. Rudnyckyj offers an alternative to the commonly held view that religious practice serves as a refuge from or means of resistance against modernization and neoliberalism. Moreover, his innovative approach charts new avenues for future research on globalization, religion, and the predicaments of modern life.

My name is Raib, I'm fifteen years old, I'm in Class 10. I'm an ordinary girl, just like your younger sisters, just like your neighbours. I have two cats: Whitey and Blacky. My parents are nice. My teachers are great. My friends are kind and supportive. I'm just like most teenagers, except for one thing. There's something that I have kept to myself since I was small. Something amazing. My name is Raib, and I can disappear. The first book of EARTH SERIES.

This book is the first work that comprehensively presents the accounts of Lia Eden, a former flower arranger who claims to have received divine messages from the Archangel Gabriel and founded the divine Eden Kingdom in her house in Jakarta. This book places Lia Eden's prophetic trajectory in the context of diverse Indonesian spiritual and religious traditions, by which hundreds of others also claimed to have been commanded by God to lead people and to establish religious groups. This book offers a fresh approach towards the rich Indonesian religious and spiritual traditions with particular attention to the accounts of the emergence of indigenous prophets who founded some popular religions. It presents the history of prophetic tradition which remains alive in Indonesian society from the colonial to reform period. It also explores the ways in which these prophets rebelled against two hegemonies: colonial power in the past and Islamic orthodoxy in the present. The discussion of this book focuses on Lia Eden including her biography, claims to prophethood and divinity, the development of her group Eden Kingdom, her challenge to Islamic orthodoxy under the banner of the MUI (Indonesian Ulama Council), her persecution by radical groups, her experiences in court trials and imprisonment, and public responses to her emergence. The discussion also covers other themes currently drawing public attention in Indonesia, such as pluralism, religious freedom, tolerance, discrimination against minorities, and secularisation.
